Specifications

The SIP 03689 Floor Mounted Hydraulic Press is the ideal press for the small workshop that requires a press to deliver controlled and precise motive force to help remove parts from fittings.

Often used on bearings, universal joint cups and pins, the use of a power press delivers precise force where needed and avoids damaging the work piece which can occur when using hammers or drifts to shift stubborn and corroded in parts.

The press is also useful for holding materials that are bonding with slow drying glues or for straightening metal parts, where controlled precision and hydraulic force give gentle realignment and avoid marks when hammers and drifts are used for the same job.

The Hydraulic ram is manually operated and a pressure gauge is included in the assembly.
