You can use this powerful, cordless tool as a leaf blower and a vacuum that automatically shreds everything it collects.

This debris is automatically shredded by the blade impeller into a fine mulch which is then collected into the generous 45L collector - reducing the waste down to a tenth of the original amount you collect.

When you've finished, simply open and pour out onto the soil, or store as compost. The bag also detaches quickly from the tool if you need to wash it.

The VS 100e is compact, well balanced and features a soft-grip handle and harness.

The two guide wheels on the bottom of the Shute ensure that time consuming jobs in awkward spaces are easier on the arms.

Simply adjust the air speed to suit what you're doing with no risk of the robust 600W brushless motor overheating.

And rely on the two STIGA ePower 20V 4Ah batteries to keep going as long as you do. These batteries also slot into our other 20V tools - making them extra versatile for gardening jobs throughout the year.
